Instructor Introduction

Jennier Xie

She has eight years of working experience, seven of which are in the field of supply chain management. She has worked in various positions such as commercial planning, sales planning, PMC, procurement fulfillment, master planning, etc. She has the vision and experience of end-to-end supply chain management.

In her spare time, she likes to read and write, and as a Zhihu blogger, the Q&A and articles on Zhihu mainly focus on two directions: workplace and supply chain management.

The articles carry the guest's interpretation and thoughts on some issues in the field of supply chain management, as well as personal experiences, lessons and regrets in career development.
