Event Name & No: Balance between safety inventory and service level

Venue: online; Event No. 20261; Date & Time: May 27, 2020; 20:00-21:45

Event Hours: 1.5 h; Professional Development Points: 1.5

Event Introduction :

Inventory is an indispensable part of a company's operations. It can't be without, but it can't be too much. What the hell is that "balance" my boss is demanding?

This seminar is from the perspective of actual combat, to share the inventory setting methods and skills, using some quantitative logic, to explore how to play "balance". It allows you to take the market in your stride and maximize demand with the most "reasonable" inventory levels.

1. Concept of inventory
2. Introduction of inventory cost
3. Two traditional inventory planning models
4. Safety inventory setup and quantitative design of service level
